The purpose of the American Baptist Quarterly is to encourage historical, biblical, and theological inquiry and to provide a forum for scholarly reflection on Baptist life, thought, and witness. The intended audience is ministerial leaders, laypersons, historians, theologians, teachers and students of the Baptist heritage.

The journal is intended to encourage a free and open exchange of ideas related to Baptist history and theology and to consider how these inform the present. The views presented by the writers of the article published do not necessarily represent the views of the Management Council of the American Baptist Quarterly, the Board of Managers of the American Baptist Historical Society, or the American Baptist Churches, USA.
